NCJW launches advocacy and education series

The National Council of Jewish Women (NCJW), Greater Minneapolis Section, has launched its Get Smart Advocacy and Education Series. This ongoing program is designed to provide information about the issues, ignite interest and inspire action.

The first event, a health care reform panel, will take place 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 20 at Knollwood Place, 3630 Phillips Pkwy., St. Louis Park. It is co-sponsored with Hadassah.

Panelists will include State Sen. Linda Berglin, D-Mpls., co-chair of the Minnesota Legislative Commission on Health Care Access; and Bill Blazar, senior vice president of public affairs and business development for the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce.

NCJW members and nonmembers are welcome to attend; the cost is $5. Refreshments will be provided.

To register, contact the NCJW office at 952-922-7900.
